Context

This non-governmental session on February 8th, 2022 in Lyon will bring together civil society experts to promote a consensus of recommendations to EU Ministers.

During the French Presidency of the Council of the European Union (PFUE), a joint meeting of EU Health and Foreign Affairs Ministers is scheduled to take place in Lyon on February 9th.
On the agenda of this EU ministerial "jumbo" is the challenge of building a European health system that can meet the needs of its citizens and contribute to global health (Global Health) with a transversal approach to health (One Health).

The Sustainable Health for All Foundation, hosted by the Bullukian Foundation, took the opportunity of this EU ministerial meeting in Lyon on February 9th to organize a virtual event on February 8 with experts from recognized European non-governmental organizations.

The February 8 event in Lyon will be an opportunity to communicate to the EU Ministers of Health and Foreign Affairs, to the mayors of major European cities and to the European Ministers of Health, a common set of recommendations and proposals from European non-governmental organizations.

OBJECTIVES

- To bring together experts and European organizations acting in the general interest (universities, academies, foundations and associations, etc.), in order to allow them to bring together from February 8th to 10th in Lyon, common recommendations in the form of advocacy with constructive proposals addressed to the European mayors and ministers.
- Pooling recommendations and proposals from a diversity of European organizations interested in influencing the priorities of European ministers.
- To stick to the theme and priorities on the agenda of the European Ministers of Health and Foreign Affairs in order to be heard in the recommendations and proposals that will be communicated by the event of February 8th.
- Promote the One Health approach in the framework of February 8th event to reinforce the link between human health, animal health and environmental health issues.

MEANS

- Organize a team dedicated to the February 8 event.
- Set up a Steering Committee bringing together European non-governmental organizations representing the diversity of health issues.
- Structure the program of the February 8 event, in line with the priority themes on the EU ministers' agenda.
- To select the speakers who can best express the points on the agenda of the February 8 event.
- Draft a text of common recommendations and proposals to be circulated on February 9, the day after the February 8 event, during which the content will be presented by experts and qualified personalities.
- To look for partner foundations to support and enable the good organization of this event.

Why ?

How can we organize a One Sustainable Health approach that can involve the various key players in the health sector while respecting their diversity and complementarity ?

On the 26th of October 2020, a commitment to develop the OSH approach was signed at the French Embassy in Berlin. It aims to be a forum between all health stakeholders to make the One Sustainable Health approach operational with innovative projects.

OSH Forum is part of the dynamics of an integrated approach without borders in favour of One Health. It is a general interest initiative, which brings together professionals, researchers, operators and regulators, all concerned by the challenges of One Health.

The One Sustainable for All Foundation carries the Forum One Sustainable Health (OSH) in partnership with the World Health Summit (WHS) of Berlin and the Geneva Health Forum (GHF).
